Exhibitors with shell scheme booths must read, sign and return the Shell Scheme Package Form, which is also mandatory for the participation in WISC 2014.

This form is MANDATORY

Both Exhibitors and EACs (exhibitor's appointed contractors) with custom design booths must read and sign this form.

Form 1

Liability Waiver

Liability waiver for exhibitors with CUSTOM DESIGN booths

All special booth designs other than shell scheme combo packages are considered custom design booths. Shell scheme booths can be slightly customized by adding furnishing and making minimum lay-out changes, still being considered as so.

The EXHIBITOR may hire a company for the I&D (installation and dismantle) services of his/her custom design booth. This company will be identified as EAC (Exhibitor's Appointed Contractor) hereafter.

The EXHIBITOR and his/her EAC must be fully aware of all the set-up and dismantling rules of the show, called Terms & Conditions, found in the Exhibitors' Manual.

The EAC is responsible for the ART or RRT permit as explained on Form 7 (Design Approval).

Booth I&D is only permitted during the set-up and dismantling hours indicated on the Exhibitor's Manual. All schedules must be followed and respected without exceptions.

By submitting this form, both EXHIBITOR and EAC companies agree to be bound by all Terms & Conditions, as well as the schedules, indicated on the Exhibitor's Manual.

Exhibitor's information (henceforth called EXHIBITOR)

I will install and dismantle my own booth; I will also be responsible for the BUILDING permit.
