Dear Friends,

There are many events and educational opportunities taking place across the globe in the field of allergy, asthma and immunology. I thought I would take a moment to highlight all of the exciting events that WAO Member Societies are hosting in the coming months.

Upcoming WAO Events:

We are only a few months away from the WAO International Scientific Conference (WISC) and the XLI Annual Meeting of the Brazilian Association of Allergy and Immunology (ASBAI) being held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, from 6-9 December 2014. With an excellent scientific program and opportunities to network and exchange knowledge, we encourage you to participate in this upcoming meeting. You can find out more information about the scientific program and register to attend the meeting here. Make sure to take advantage of the discounted registration rate prior to the 31 October deadline.

New WAO Web Educational Offerings!
Scientific Interviews with Experts
Every month through WAO TV a junior member interviews an author who has had an important paper recently published in a major allergy journal. WAO TV is one of the ways WAO communicates with members, bringing to all relevant messages, educational materials, scientific highlights, and news of significance in our specialty from the WAO and the larger allergy community. View the interviews here.
